SARDAR VALLABHBHAI PATEL
THE ARCHITECT OF MODERN INDIA

Vallabhbhai Jhaverbhai Patel occupies a prominent place among those heroic men and women who worked for India's freedom and helped not only to win it, but also to consolidate it. Although he came to public life only in his early forties, his thirty-three years of work for the cause of the nation is full of many-splendoured achievements. Along with Gandhiji, Jawaharlal Nehru and some other leaders, he dominated the politics of the country during the crucial thirty years from 1920 to 1950.

He was not only a great leader of the masses, but also a far-seeing statesman and an able administrator who handled with consummate mastery and finesse, the complex problems facing the new Government. In the words of Jawaharlal Nehru, "History will record many things about him in its pages and call him the builder and consolidator of new India..." Vallabhbhai Patel was born on October 31, 1875 at Nadiad in Kheda district of Gujarat. His parents Jhaverbhai Patel and Ladbai came from peasant background. It is said that his father had in early life enrolled himself in the army of Rani of Jhansi and fought against the British.

Vallabhbhai was the fourth son in a family of five brothers and a sister. He received his early education at Karamsad School. His family could not finance his college education and therefore, he passed the examination most of the books. He studied up to the fifth grade level. He was seventeen when the news reached him at Borsad, he was in court arguing in a murder case. But the news had stunned him. He never married again. Vallabhbhai was keen on going to England and studying for the Bar and saved money for the purpose. He wrote to a travel agency to arrange his passage. The firm addressed its reply to V.J. Patel and, as chance would have it, the letter was delivered to his elder brother and therefore, he passed the examination for the Pleaders' examination for advocates at the Bombay High Court in 1896.

In early life enrolled himself in the army of Rani of Jhansi and fought against the British.

In 1893, when only 18, his wife died after an operation in early life enrolled himself in the army of Rani of Jhansi and fought against the British.

In 1909 at the age of 34, his wife died after an operation. The stability of government jobs as a college teacher will need to clear the National Eligibility Test (NET), or Junior Research Fellowship (JRF), or both.

For JRD, the age limit is set at 30 years. But there is no upper age limit for becoming a college lecturer. If one has 55% in your Master's Degree (as a General Category candidate), he or she is eligible to appear for the NET exam. Reserved category students or PhD degree holders can apply for the exam even if they have 50% aggregate marks at the Master's degree level. With the 7th Pay Commission, the entry pay for the Assistant Professor position in government colleges is Rs 57,700 (excluding allowances like HRA, DA, and others). Those who love the University Grants Commission (UGC) conducts the National Eligibility Test (NET) exam to screen Indian candidates who are eligible for:

- Assistant Professor positions in government colleges and universities in India,
- Junior Research Fellowship (JRF),
- both.

Results of the June 2019 exam was still abysmal - around 6%. No wonder, it is considered the second-toughest exam in India after the UPSC (Union Public Service Commission) exams.

The NTA will again conduct the NET exam from 2nd to 6th December 2019- only in the online mode. Since this is going to be a computer-based test (CBT), one will have to take both Paper 1 & Paper 2 in a single session. It means that candidates will not get any break between the two papers. Paper 1 is of 1 hour duration. It has 50 questions with a total worth of 100 marks. 5 questions will be asked for each of the following categories:

- Communication
- Data Interpretation
- Higher Education System:
- Governance, Polity & Administration
- Information & Communication Technology (ICT)
- Logical Reasoning

Vallabhbhai Patel's political career had a modest beginning. The first campaign organized jointly by Gandhi and Patel was the Kheda satyagraha from March to June, 1918, in which, though the victory was not decisive, the spirit of upsurge which constituted one of the most glorious chapters in the history of India's struggle for freedom, brought out in bold relief the basic traits of Vallabhbhai's personality-an indomitable will and perseverance, a fine sense of strategy and calculation, and an identification with the espoused cause, total disregard of sentimentalism, an iron discipline imposed upon himself and those working with him and selflessness to the point of self-denial. Bardoli, in fact, was a unique personal triumph for Vallabhbhai. It was in this operation a new high in efficiency with which he conducted the movement that he was acclaimed as the 'Sardar'-the leader, a title by which he came to be known to the nation ever since.

The non-cooperation movement which Gandhi launched on August 1, 1920 was a novel experiment in human history. No wonder, opinion even in the nationalist ranks was not united in support of it. Vallabhbhai, however, gave his whole-hearted support to the programme and even before the special session of the Congress was held at Calcutta in September, he used his influence with the provincial leaders at the Gujarat Political Conference in August 1920 to persuade them to commit themselves to Gandhi's programme and to recommend its adoption by the Congress. Though the movement failed in its political objective, Vallabhbhai's work had a deep impact by changing the climate of opinion in Gujarat, and eliminating from it the influence of old-style moderate politicians.

The non-cooperation movement was a war of India's long struggle to achieve freedom. For the first time after 1857, the British again felt their superiors and the villagers and a British engineer and a city father. He had declined. He did not want to accept the appointment in the Government of Bombay, offered him by Sir Basil Scott, the Chief Justice of India in February 1913 as a full-fledged barrister. On Vallabhbhai's arrival, Sir Basil Scott, the Chief Justice of Bombay, offered him an appointment in the Government Law School which Vallabhbhai declined. He did not want to serve the British Government. Patel specialised in criminal cases and soon had a great practice. At that time, Patel's mode of living and dressing up was like that of a European. He was fond of playing bridge. He decorated his office with up-to-date furniture which, according to Sheth Kasturbhai, a leading businessman of those days, was unique. He was a member of the Gujarati Club, rendezvous of businessman of those days, was fond of playing bridge. He returned to Ahmedabad's fashionable Gujarat Club, and among the front-rank leaders who appreciated Gandhi's affection did not, however, stand in the way of his disagreeing with the Mahatma when occasion demanded. For example, Vallabhbhai insisted on getting back the Gujarat Vidyapith library which, with Gandhi's consent, had been handed over to the Ahmedabad Municipality while Vallabhbhai was in jail. Vallabhbhai had come to the aid of the Vidyapith when it was in financial difficulties during the 1920s and had collected for it as much as ten lakh rupees. The Vidyapith had all along been rendering invaluable national service by producing alumni, qualified and willing to do work in the villages. When after the withdrawal of the Civil Disobedience Movement in 1934 the Vidyapith was revived, Vallabhbhai was made its Vice-Chancellor and later, after Gandhi's death, Chancellor. The collection of books which Vallabhbhai thus saved in 1934 have now become one of the biggest libraries in Ahmedabad and Gujarat. Vallabhbhai's personality-an indomitable will and perseverance, a fine sense of strategy and calculation, and an identification with the espoused cause, total disregard of sentimentalism, an iron discipline imposed upon himself and those working with him and selflessness to the point of self-denial. The Dandi March, in 1930, electrified the people with a new self-confidence. HOW TO PREPARE ...

- People & Environment
- Reading Comprehension
- Reasoning (including Numerical Reasoning)
- Research Aptitude, and
- Teaching Aptitude.

Paper 2 has a duration of 2 hours. It has 100 questions in total worth of 200 questions. So, one will have to solve 150 questions carrying a total of 300 marks in the three-hour exam duration. All the questions will be of objective multiple-choice types. They will be related to the subject candidates have chosen.

There will be no choice in the exam. Each question is worth 2 marks. Fortunately, there is no negative marking in the exam. Hence, if a candidate gets stuck, he or she can use the elimination technique to choose an answer that seems most likely to be correct.

Some changes have been made to the UGC NET syllabus this year. So, it will be a wise move to check out the NTA UGC NET syllabus for December 2019 carefully while preparing for the exam.

Please note that there are no sectional cut-offs in the exam. It means that the total marks in the exam (including Paper 1 and Paper 2 marks) will be considered while declaring the NET results.

If candidates are not familiar with computer-based exams, they may access the free practice sessions at the designated Test Practice Centres (TPCs) run by the NTA on weekends (Saturdays and Sundays). One may also download the NTA app and hone his or her online exam taking skills right at home.

Review of the NTA UGC NET Exam conducted in June 2019

NET coaching experts believed that the June exam had a moderate to hard difficulty level compared to the previous exam. It was conducted in two shifts:

- The morning shift was from 9:30 am to 12:30 pm.
- The evening shift was from 2:30 pm to 5:30 pm.

Candidates were given rough paper and pen in the examination centre. They were not allowed to carry any gadgets or phone inside the examination hall. Only admit cards were allowed inside the examination venue.

In the Paper 1 exam

- 10-12 questions were asked from the Teaching Aptitude, focussing on:
  - Evaluation of Learner’s Ability
  - Emotional Ability
  - Discussion and Analysis
  - Inclusive Education.

These questions were slightly difficult to answer. They had moderate to hard difficulty levels.

- 5 to 7 questions were asked from the Mass Media & Society.
- 4 to 6 questions were related to Mathematical Reasoning. They were easy to moderate and were related to:
  - Algebra Series
  - Simple Interest
  - HCF & LCM.
- Time & Work, and
- Blood Relations.

Some of them were tricky:

- 5 to 6 questions from Logical Reasoning marked around:
  - Propositions,
  - Sylllogism & Inference, and
  - Venn Diagrams.

They were moderately difficult.

- 5 questions from Data Interpretation marked around Table Charts.
- Interpretation of Table-based Data, and
- Percentages.

- 2 to 3 easy questions were related to knowledge of computers or ICT. They were about basic concepts of:
  - Operating System
  - Virus
  - Storage Device
  - Memory, and
  - Bluetooth.

- 3 to 5 moderate questions were related to Environment and Current Affairs. They focused around:
  - Rio Summit in Stockholm,
  - Ozone Layer, and
  - Tropical Cyclones.

- 3 to 5 moderately difficult questions from General Education System focused around:
  - SWAYAM
  - Articles
  - Higher Education Channels and MOOCs
  - Digital Initiative in Higher Education
  - Knowledge Commission and other educational reforms in post-independence India,
  - and Responsibility of UGC.

This exam analysis should give NET aspirants a fair idea of what to expect in the exam. One can choose to study the important topics first. Keep an eye on the latest news and developments in the education field, especially government initiatives.

How to Prepare for the NTA NET 2019 Exam?

1. Devote 30% of your time to Paper 1 and 70% to Paper 2.

Paper 1’s syllabus is endless. Now that candidates have less than two months left for their exam preparation, it will not be wise to pick up new topics at the moment. Discussion and Analysis is mostly related to what candidates have already studied in graduation and postgraduation. Devoting more time to Paper 2 will help them net more marks in less effort.

As mentioned above, the NET exam does not have sectional cut-offs. Hence, the candidates need to study every portion.

2. Divide a day in 10-hours, 8-hours, and 6-hours slots.

- 10 hours: for Study Routine.
  - Experts suggest NET aspirants to devote: 3 hours to Paper 1, and
  - 7 hours to Paper 2.

For Paper 1, dedicate at least one hour to revision and one hour to solving previous years’ papers. Use the last hour to study the topics that are still unfinished.

For Paper 2, dedicate at least one hour to revision and one hour to solving previous years’ papers. Take help of someone to correct the paper one has solved (using the answer keys available online). While the candidate finishes with his or her revisions. Candidates can then analyze their performance and find out where they went wrong. Some of the common reasons why candidates give wrong answers are:

- They didn’t read the full question.
- They can’t understand the question correctly.
- They made a silly mistake.
- They had no idea about the topic on which the question was based.

Plug these loopholes to improve the performance levels in short time.

- 8 hours: for Sleeping. Sleep plays a crucial role in exam preparation. It consolidates the information one has studied during the day and cements it in the memory. It improves one’s ability to concentrate and pay attention to what one is learning. And of course, it allows one to recover from the physical and mental stress one goes through during exams. It also regulates one’s metabolism and keeps one’s physical and mental health in the best shape. Don’t skimp on sleep if you really want to succeed.

- 6 hours: for doing your Routine Work. Many people who take UGC NET exam are already working or doing post-doctoral courses. Many UGC NET aspirants might also have families to look after. They need to be efficient to finish everything that needs to be done and cannot be avoided during these six hours.

3. Paper 1 is Easy but it needs Consistency.

Despite what everybody says, the truth is that the Paper 1 of UGC NET exam is quite easy. One can easily score 80+ marks in this paper. Many of the questions asked in this paper are picked up directly from previous years. So, if a candidate solves papers from past years religiously and grasps the exam pattern, it should be easy for him or her to score well in the first paper.

Study for Paper 1 every day. Never skip it just because it’s easy. Consistency is the key to score more in this paper. One can start with easy units like:

- Teaching Aptitude
- Research Aptitude
- Communication, and
- ICT.

Move on to other topics only when one has covered these important topics first.

One may also start with Mental Reasoning, Mathematical Reasoning and Data Interpretation practice side-by-side. Devote a few minutes (15 to 20 minutes) to:

- Higher Education,
- Environment, and
- General Awareness everyday over the next month.

Some people may find that Reading Comprehension and Data Interpretation are time-consuming portions of the UGC NET syllabus. But these sections also need regular practice. Hence, they will need to devote at least 15 minutes to them every day. Many apps and educational websites can help such people with Reading Comprehension in an interesting way. They can use them to introduce some variety to their study schedule.

It is always best to study in the time-bound manner. Once a person decides that he or she needs to finish a particular portion of study in a specific time period, his or her brain works in a more efficient manner.

4. Use 10 Minutes a Day to reach your Prime state

Tony Robbins is a multi-millionaire and a self-made person. He follows a ritual that he calls ‘Priming’ which can be useful to you as a NET aspirant. It takes only 10 minutes to perform the ritual. It includes:

- Meditation
- Tony Robbins suggests a breathing exercise here:
  - Sit straight.
  - Close your eyes.
  - Inhale deeply through your nostrils.
  - Exhale forcefully through your mouth as you bring your arms back to your body with your palms facing upwards.
  - Repeat it 10 times in quick succession.
  - Repeat 3 sets of the exercise.

- Practicing Gratitude

Think of three things that you should be grateful for. Tony Robbins writes that gratefulness drives away fear and anger.

- Oprah Winfrey agrees. Regularly practicing gratitude is a healthy practice to introduce more positivity in your life.

- Visualization

You may choose to visualize a pure white light healing your physically, emotionally, and spiritually. Or walking down a beautiful beach as sun is setting in the vast great ocean to de-stress.

- Once you are relaxed, visualize your goals as if you have already achieved them.

NET aspirants may try visualizing that they have already cracked the exam with good marks and feel the joy bubbling within them.

This technique can rewire your brain for success.

- Once you finish these three steps, it is a good idea to set your target for the day. Write it down. At the end of the day, evaluate your progress.

Later, as Chairman of the Parliamentary Board, Vallabhbhai was overall in charge of the Congress election campaigns both in 1937 and 1946. He established an efficient machinery not only for winning the elections but also for co-ordinating the work of the ministries and ensuring that they faithfully carried out Congress' policies and worked under the direction of the national organisation.

The Sardar's work during this early phase of the parliamentary programme was of inestimable value in creating an all-India framework for the functioning of provincial ministries and thereby preparing the ground for the evolution in post-independence India of a truly national political outlook. It was the first step in the difficult process adopted in the two countries, to understand the great difference related by H.G. Wells, one would find a solution.

...the government of the future may be a united army..." Once when a leader asked Sardar Patel, "When I joined Gandhiji, I paid him Rs. 200/- from my pocket..." The Sardar replied, "I didn't know what would be left of all this except the ashes. "True to his words, when he died, his personal clothing was only belonging. Paying tributes to Sardar Patel, the Manchester Guardian wrote, 'Patel was not only the organiser of the fight for freedom but also the architect of the new State when the fight was over. The same man is seldom successful as a rebel and a statesman. Sardar Patel was the exception'.
